They went with songs to the battle, they were young.

Straight of limb, true of eyes, steady and aglow.

*They were staunch to the end against odds
uncounted,*

They fell with their faces to the foe.

They shall not grow old, as we that are left grow old.

Age shall not weary them, nor the years condemn.

At the going down of the sun and in the morning,

We will remember them.

Dear Parents,

Today, we commemorated Remembrance day, joining with people from all over the world in remembering those men and women who gave their lives in the first and second world wars, and the conflicts since.

In addition, we remembered Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II, who had a long and close relationship with the Armed Forces, both in the United Kingdom and in the Commonwealth.

As well as remembering the fallen, the children are taught to look first for peaceful solutions to problems that they have, so that this peace will affect others and spread across the world.

I would like to thank Mrs Horwood who made some beautiful poppies for the readers to wear, including a black poppy which I wore to commemorate the contribution made by the Black, African and Caribbean communities to the war effort.

Wishing you a relaxing weekend.

With best wishes,

Christina Singh

Headteacher

Year 5 cross-country competition

Many congratulations to the children in year 5 who took part in a 1500m cross country race on Monday.

Not only did they complete the race but they did so in a downpour of rain!

Yasmina came 10th in the Year 5 girls' race and Joseph came 7th and Abhay 9th in the Year 5 boys' race.

Congratulations to everyone who took part!

Poppies

Everything was black and red

No life, no life at all.

Everyone stood in solemn silence

There was no emotion except the worst of all.

But something had life, emotion, colour and that something was a poppy.

People would step on it, push it down,

But that exquisite poppy still kept on blooming and more poppies began to grow

Until there was not one centimetre without a poppy.

And those poppies were not just poppies,

They were the most wonderful, brightening, amazing, mood-lifting flowers on earth,

The only planet with life.

Stars of the week 4th November 2022

The following children have been nominated by their Class Teachers to be star of the week this week, for an aspect of learning, an achievement or positive behaviour. However, all the children deserve congratulations for a successful week.

Class	Nominee	Reason
Holly	Thea	For really using your imagination to create a unique and magnificent creature.
Willow	Ileas	For having fantastic manners that he always uses to make everyone feel happier in school.
Oak	James	For demonstrating fantastic practice and calmness during our weekly Headspace sessions.
Juniper	Isabella	For working extremely hard to learn her times tables. The hard work has paid off!
Elm	Kaitlin	For being such an incredibly hard worker. Kaitlin goes above and beyond in her work and usually has the task well under way before the rest of us even have a pen in hand! A shining example to the class.
Beech	Millie	For showing her creative mind even in the simplest of situations. She added great flare to her relative clauses.
Rowan	Florence	For showing great confidence when embodying 'Traction Man' in our English lessons, really bringing your character to life.
Poplar	Abhi	For his creativity during art lessons and for always being kind to his peers.

Stars of the week 11th November 2022

Class	Nominee	Reason
Holly	Emin	For writing some fantastic, imaginative descriptions of a setting, and for working to the very best of his ability across the curriculum.
Willow	Khushi	For great work in maths, you took great care in our problem solving lessons – showing determination and accuracy.
Oak	Moksh	For developing his focus and concentration across the curriculum.
Juniper	Samara	For creating a fantastic firework inspired piece of art.
Elm	Aanshi	For showing such amazing initiative by organising a litter picking programme with her friends! Aanshi created a sign up sheet, worked out a rota and has been liaising with Mr Harrison to get the job done! Thank you for caring for our environment.
Beech	Riann	For showing focus and energy in our long multiplication work! He was a great example to all his classmates.
Rowan	Ousainou	For taking pride over the presentation of his books and working really hard on his cursive handwriting.
Poplar	Chetana	For always completing her weekly Year 6 Investigates to an extremely high level, making them an absolute pleasure to read. Well done.
